

CANNA FARM

The logo for CannaFarmCon features a stylized 'C' at the top right, a green sprout with two leaves growing from a circular base containing blue wavy lines, and a large 'N' at the bottom right. The background of the entire image is a close-up photograph of a person's hand, with fingers spread, resting on dark, rich soil. The hand appears to be of an older individual, with visible wrinkles and some dirt on the fingers. The lighting is soft and natural, highlighting the texture of the skin and the soil.

Wildroot Organic counteracts common soil deficiencies and creates a soil environment that produces self-sufficient plants. It naturally increases the surface area of the root zone up to 1000 times which allows essential nutrients, air, and water into the root zone and binds together sandy soil. Fast acting artificial plant foods may work temporarily, but they alter the natural bacterial balance in the soil making plants dependent on these short-term treatments. The outcome is an expensive and time consuming cycle for the grower to manage and pay for.
